Juberry Pre-Cut Sale

It has been a long time coming but here is our latest Juberry newsletter.

A lot has happened since we last updated you – closure of the shop in Newbury, move to South Wales and recreation of the shop in our house.

It has been a hectic three years, yes three years, but with the regular monthly shows on Create and Craft and monthly deliveries of stunning fabric we decided it was time to give something back to our customers.

This month we have selected ALL our remaining Pre-Cuts including Layer Lakes, Big 10's, Charm Packs and more and are knocking the prices down by 25%.

Over 72 items on sale.

And we are planning more give aways over the next few weeks so that you can get more great value for money from Juberry.

Take a look soon because you will not find better prices on the web and we are selling out fast.

Threads through creation

Threads through creation is a display of large textile pieces in Guildford Cathedral which we visited recently and it is on until 16th October and well worth a visit if you have time. On the next page below is a photo of one of the pieces on display.

If you want lunch or a drink there is a cafe within the campus but go by 12:30 as they do run out of some of the food on offer.
